WILLIAM F. TUER, MD, AND

ALLERGY ASSOCIATES OF SOUTH FLORIDA
HIPAA Privacy Notice

This notice describes how medical information about you may be used and disclosed and how you can get access to this information. Please review it carefully.

This Notice of Privacy Practices describes how we may use and disclose your protected health information (PHI) to carry out treatment, payment or healthcare operations (TPO) and for other purposes that are permitted or required by law. It also describes your rights to access and control your protected health information. "Protected health information" is information about you, including demographic information, that may identify you and relates to your past, present or future physical or mental health or condition and related health care services.

1. Uses and Disclosures of Protected Health Information

Your protected health information may be used and disclosed by your physician, our office staff, and others outside of our office that are involved in your care and treatment for the purpose of providing health care services to you, to pay your health care bills, to support the operation of the physician's practice, and any other use required by law.

Treatment: We will use and disclose your protected health information to provide, coordinate, or manage your health care and any related services. This includes the coordination or management of your health care with a third party. For example, your protected health information may be provided to a physician to whom you have been referred to ensure the physician has the necessary information to diagnose or treat you.

Payment: Your protected health information will be used, as needed to obtain payment for your health care services. For example, obtaining approval for an office visit may require that your relevant protected health information be disclosed to the health plan.

Healthcare Operations: We may use or disclose, as-needed, your protected health information in order to support the business activities of your physician's practice. These activities include, but are not limited to, quality assessment activities, employee review activities, training of medical students, licensing, and conducting or arranging for other business activities. For example, we may disclose your protected health information to medical school students that see patients at our office. In addition, we may use a sign-in sheet at the registration desk where you will be asked to sign your name and indicate your intended visit, (i.e. shot or office visit). We may also call you by name in the waiting room, when we are ready to see you. We may disclose your protected health information, as necessary, to contact you to remind you of your appointment.

We may use or disclose your protected health information in the following situations without your authorization. These situations include as Required By Law, Legal Proceedings, Law Enforcement: Coroners, Funeral Directors, and Organ Donation: Research: Criminal Activity: Military Activity and National Security: Worker's Compensation: Required Uses and Disclosures: Under the law, we must make disclosures to you and when required by the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services to investigate or determine our compliance with the requirements of Section 164.500.

Dr. Roberson's Office Policy: The office will attempt to contact you by telephone or by mail with lab results, ct scans of sinuses, chest x-rays or any other results pertaining to your health, it is the policy to leave a message on your home answering machine with the results and the need for any further scheduling.

The office will attempt to confirm your appointments or remind you of the need to an appointment either by telephone or by mail. If after the attempt to reach you by telephone is unsuccessful we will leave a message on your answering machine to call the office. The office may mail recall notices.

Other Permitted and Required Uses and Disclosures Will be Made Only With Your Consent, Authorization or Opportunity to Object unless required by law.

You may revoke this authorization, at any time, in writing, except to the extent that your physician or the physician's practice has taken an action in reliance on the use or disclosure indicated in the authorization.

Your Rights:

The following is a statement of your rights with respect to your protected health information.

You have the right to inspect and copy your protected health information. Under Federal Law, however, you may not inspect or copy the following records; information compiled in a reasonable anticipation of, or use in, a civil, criminal, or administrative action or proceeding, and protected health information that is subject to law that prohibits access to protected health information.

You have the right to request a restriction of your protected health information. This means you may ask us not to use or disclose any part of your protected health information for the purposes of treatment, payment, or healthcare operations. You may also request that any part of your protected health information not to be disclosed to family members or friends who may be involved in your care or for notification purposes as described in the Notice of Privacy Practices. Your request must state the specific restriction requested and to whom you want the restriction to apply.

Your physician or healthcare professional is not required to agree to a restriction that you may request. If your physician or healthcare professional believes it is in your best interest to permit use and disclosure of your protected health information, your protected health information will not be restricted. You then have right to use another Healthcare Professional.

You have the right to receive confidential communications from us by alternative means or at an alternative location. You have the right to obtain a paper copy of this notice, upon request.

You may have the right to have your physician or healthcare professional amend your protected health information. If we deny your request for amendment, you have the right to file a statement of disagreement with us and we may prepare a rebuttal to your statement and will provide you with a copy of any such rebuttal.

You have the right to receive an accounting of certain disclosures we have made, if any, of your protected health information.

We reserve the right to change the terms of this notice and will inform you by mail of any change. You then have the right to object or withdraw as provided in this notice.

Complaints: You may complain to us or to the Secretary of Health and Human Services if you believe your privacy rights have been violated by us. You may file a complaint with us by notifying our privacy contact of your complaint. We will not retaliate against you for filling a complaint.
